CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA IN SPRING

'Tis beautiful, beautiful everywhere.
There's health in the sunshine, there's balm in the air;
'Tis sweet just to live and to loll on the green,
Where Nature resplendent has donned her best sheen;
Then why should we murmur, or why should we care,
When 'tis so beautiful, beautiful everywhere.

The great ocean's before us, deep, blue and serene,
Wild flowers lend charm to pine trees bright green,
The wild birds are singing, away with dull care,
For 'tis beautiful, beautiful everywhere.

The golden hued poppy lends charm to the scene,
As we gaze on Point Lobos with Carmel between;
The snowy white beach so inviting and fair;
Oh! it's beautiful, beautiful everywhere.

The mountains, majestic, tree covered, would ween
Us away from the ocean, by woodland and stream,
But the Mission between them invites us in prayer,
To worship the giver of earth, sea and air,
Who made it so beautiful everywhere.

Pioneer Carmel Woman Laid to Final Rest

Death has again visited the Machado family. Last Monday night at her Oak Grove home, Mrs. Mary Josephine Machado, aged 78, passed away. Only two months ago her husband, Christiano Machado, Carmel's oldest pioneer, well known because of his connection with the Mission, answered the last call.

The surviving members of the family are six daughters and three sons, thirty-five grandchildren, twelve great-grandchildren. The daughters are Mrs. Marion Goold of Carmel, Mrs. Lottie Fraties of Carmel, Mrs. Emily Peterson of Monterey, Mrs. Jessie DeCorli of Salinas, Mrs. Katherine Martin of Salinas, and Mrs. M. Suckow of Blanco. The sons are John Machado of Soledad, Christiano Machada, Jr., of Salinas, and Antonio Machado of Carmel.

The funeral services were held Wednesday morning and were largely attended. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery at Monterey.

Trustees to Change Meeting Night

At next Tuesday night's regular meeting of the Carmel city trustees an amendment to Ordinance No. 1 will be passed to print, changing the regular monthly meeting night to the first Monday, instead of the first Tuesday, as at present. This is to enable City Attorney Argyll Campbell and City Engineer H. D. Severance to attend the meetings. Both occupy similar positions in Monterey, and the board there meets on Tuesday.

The board will also finally pass the animal ordinance, fixing the tax levy for 1924-25.

Coming Events

Sunday, August 31—Edouard Deru, violinist. Theatre of the Golden Bough.

September 2—Monthly meeting, Carmel Board of Trustees.

October 16, 17, 18—"The Handmaiden of Heaven," by Thomas Wood Stevens. Theatre of the Golden Bough.

October 12 to 19—Junipero Serra Pilgrimage. Monterey Peninsula.

National Defense Day

CARMEL should participate in National Defense Day, Friday, September 12. It is a patriotic duty. No politics in it. To discuss ways and means to bring Carmel into line, a public meeting will be held at the City Hall next Monday, 7:30. All citizens are invited. Be there!

Humane Society Quotes Penal Code

The Carmel Humane Society invites your attention to the following laws of the State of California for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and Animals:

Portion of Penal Code 597: "Every person, who maliciously kills, maims, or wounds an animal, the property of another . . . and whoever having charge of custody of any animal, either as owner, or otherwise, subjects any animal to needless suffering, or inflicts unnecessary cruelty upon the same, or in any way abuses any animal, or fails to provide the same with proper food, drink, shelter and protection from the weather, or who drives, rides or otherwise uses the same when unfit for labor, is for every offense guilty of a misdemeanor."

Penal Code 596: "Every person, who wilfully administers poison to an animal the property of another, or maliciously exposes any poisonous substance, with the intent that the same shall be taken or swallowed by any such animal, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding three years, or in the county jail not exceeding one year, and a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars."

Violin Recital at the Golden Bough

For the last time for several weeks the Theatre of the Golden Bough will open its doors to its patrons tomorrow evening. The recital of Edouard Deru, one of the foremost violinists of Western Europe, will provide the brilliant closing attraction of the summer season. The program follows:

1. Suite in D Major — Leclair
2. Concerto in G Major — Max Bruch
3. (a) Air for G-string — Bach
   (b) Berceuse — Faure
   (c) Tambourine Chinois, Kreisler
4. (a) Hebrew Melody — Achron
   (b) Gypsy Airs — Sarasate

Of the foregoing program, the Bruch program was played by Mr. Deru a week ago at the Greek Theatre in Berkeley, receiving great acclaim. A number of the same selections as on the Carmel program will be played by Mr. Deru at his gala recital in the Colonial Room of the Hotel St. Francis next week.

Carmel and the peninsula are again, as in many other instances during the summer, being offered a musical treat such as only large centers of population, at double the admission charge, have heretofore enjoyed.

The Election

Last Tuesday's state-wide primary was a tame affair. The vote was light everywhere. General Apathy was an easy winner.

Of more or less immediate concern to the people of Carmel is the reelection of Dr. J. L. D. Roberts to the board of supervisors. C. C. Baker goes to the state senate, A. M. Free will be our member of congress for another two years.

Carmel's vote was very light, with the following result:

Congressman: Free, 110; Van Dellen, 58.

Supervisor: Roberts, 152; Gould, 47.

State Senator: Baker, 116; Kirtland, 50.

The annual meeting of the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts will be held on Monday evening, September 8.

OUR LADY OF MT CARMEL

Rarest hill in olden story
Is Mount Carmel-by-the-Sea,
Where the flower and shrub and woodland
Make an Eden for the bee
And for thousand birdies singing
Songs of sweetest melody.

From of old the Blessed Mary
Hath been known and honored aye
As Our Lady of Mount Carmel.
Pure and holy, here we pray
To obtain from God our Savior
Grace to walk "the narrow way."

While we struggle 'mid the turmoil
Of the world's distress and din,
Plead, dear Lady of Mount Carmel,
Plead for us, that we may win
Strength to conquer dark temptation
And to shun the stain of sin.

—Contributed.

LITTLE PILGRIMS

Francis Joseph Hickson, Los Angeles actor, will play the leading role in "Fray Junipero Serra," the Newberry-Mestres pageant.

The guarantee fund for the big October event has passed the $20,000 mark, according to Robert G. Leidig.

Mrs. Lucille Kiester, a student in the Golden Bough school of the arts of the theatre, has been appointed costume designer of the Serra Pilgrimage.

There has been a great demand for Pilgrimage stationery—envelopes and letterheads. Peninsula printing offices have been kept busy turning them out.

Newspapers throughout the state are publishing Pilgrimage publicity matter. The supply material sent out by Rolin G. Watkins goes to the typesetter instead of the waste basket.

Army and navy maneuvers will be a part of Pilgrimage Week activities. Col. H. J. Breese, Monterey Presidio post commander, is entering heartily into the affair.

The great crowd of visitors here from October 12 to 19 will probably be kept informed of the various events by a daily program to be distributed by the publicity committee.

It has been decided that in addition to the two Monterey performances of "The Rose of the Rancho" a third and Saturday performance will be given at the Forest theatre here.

Preparations are well under way for the production of "The Rose of the Rancho" during Pilgrimage Week, October 12 to 19. Arthur Cyril, who will produce the play, is busy getting the cast together.

Attorney Campbell Gets County Job

In addition to his duties as city attorney of Carmel and city attorney of Monterey, Argyll Campbell has another job. Last Monday morning at Salinas he was sworn in as deputy district attorney for Monterey, under Albert Warth, succeeding Fred A. Treat, recently appointed superior judge by Governor Richardson.

These three positions, together with his private practice, will keep Campbell a busy man. He will continue to reside in Carmel.

A birthday in the Carmel Boys' Club is always hailed with delight, as it has become a well established custom for the fortunate mother of the birthday-boy to provide the refreshments, which by the inclusion of ice-cream, makes the event a real party. The last affair was in celebration of Nero Hammond's birthday, and a bountiful supply of both ice cream and cake was furnished. There was considerable exuberance let loose, as it was the first meeting of the summer and the club yell, which closed the evening, was well named.

PINE NEEDELS

A meeting of Saint Anne's Guild will be held at the Rectory next Tuesday, 3 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bechdolt have returned from a two weeks camping trip at Hoffman's Camp.

Mason Schlosser, cement magnate, blew into town last Wednesday. He has been sojourning in the Klamath country.

Professor A. F. Lange, veteran Univer-sity of California instructor, well known here, died in Berkeley a few days ago.

Walter Egan, Chicago insurance man, who was here several months early in the year, is again in Carmel, with his father.

A practical and instructive class in bible study is conducted at All Saints' church every Thursday evening. All interested are invited.

A new member of the Flanner family is announced. This time it's a girl, her name is Charlotte, and she arrived on Sunday, August 24.

Courtland J. Arne and Louis S. Slevin are sojourning at Paraiso Springs for two weeks. Court chases chickens and Louis chases insects.

Admission Day, September 9, comes a week from next Tuesday. Local hotels are anticipating that accommodations will be taxed to capacity.

After quite a long absence, Miss Agnes Collins has returned from Toledo, Ohio, and other places. She has purchased property and will become a regular Carmelite.

The Pine Cone has on display a pear weighing twenty ounces, grown by E. A. Benton at his Rancho de la Fruita, Carmel Valley. It is of the Clairgeau variety.

Miss Gertrude Mackay and little Miss Valentine Porter have returned from a six weeks visit in Victoria, B. C., where Miss Mackay has an attractive summer home.

Mrs. James Wilson Howell and Miss Bertha Howell, with Mary Hemstead, who have been spending the summer here, leave this week for their home at Evanston, Ill.

WHAT I SEE IN THE GARDEN

THE APHIS

By Valkyrie Campbell

One warm summer day as I strolled down the garden with our dog, David ran up to me and, between gasps for breath, exclaimed, "Oh, sister, come and see what's on my corn that I planted. It has a lot of black on it!"

We both hastened down to his corn patch. I saw a number of ants, traveling up the stalks to some black insects. It was interesting to watch these miniature creatures of God's universe. I singled out one particular ant from the rest and noticed it come up to one of the black insects and draw its front feet around the back of the insect. To my surprise I saw a small but pure drop of liquid no bigger than a pin head appear from the black insect. The ant drank this liquid and, turning, went on down the tasseled stalk. I watched the other ants and saw that they were doing the same thing, but at different times and from other insects. After watching this queer performance, I ran up to the house and told mother.

A few days after this mother brought home a book, named "The Story Book of Science," by Jean Henri Fabre. That noon I read the first chapter. The second was entitled, "The Ant's Cow." It told about the aphis, a tiny black insect. The chapter also told of how the ants travel up a plant, on which are the aphis or plant-lice. By moving their fore-feet around the aphis, they tickle it and there appears a drop, very small, but as pure as dew. The ant drinks this and goes down its hole. There it distributes the liquid among the inhabitants of the hole, and then goes back to the aphis for more. The aphis is spoken of as the "Ant's Cow."

I am convinced from my experience in the garden that the black insect we saw was the aphis.

Mrs. Harper Writes of European Tour

Interlaken, Switzerland,
July 5, 1924

Dear Children,—

I thought you might be interested to know how we spent the "Fourth of July" in Switzerland.

It was a glorious day—not a cloud in the sky, and the Jungfrau as white and glistening as a freshly frosted cake.

The American flag was displayed everywhere in honor of the occasion, and people seemed unusually friendly to all Americans.

We decided to spend the day in the high Alps, so took an early train for Lauterbrunnen, which is in a most delightful valley with rushing streams and cool forests. Here we left the train, and went, by motor, farther down the valley, to the wonderful Trummelbach Falls, which are so tremendous and powerful that they have literally tunneled through the mountain, and come tearing and roaring down, first in one direction, then off at right angles, then back again, until it makes one dizzy to watch them—to say nothing of getting soaking wet from the spray.

We went to the top of the Falls in an elevator, which is built inside the mountain, then walked down, stopping often to enjoy the grandeur of the scene spread out before us.

Words can never describe it, but I am bringing some pictures that will tell you all about it.

Next we drove back to Lauterbrunnen, passing the beautiful Staubach Falls on the way. These are very different from Trummelbach.

The water drops over a precipice about a thousand feet high and is lost in filmy, lacy spray long before it reaches the bottom of the cliff.

We took the train again at Lauterbrunnen, and went up, up, up for over an hour until we were at the very top of the Wengern Alp, more than six thousand feet above the beautiful valley, and at the foot of the Jungfrau. The station is called Scheidegg, and here we ate our lunch, with a tiny American flag in the center of the table, placed there in honor of the day. We spent two hours enjoying the magnificent panorama spread before us—rugged, snow-capped peaks, and deep fertile valleys, with little villages dotted here and there, and tiny chalets sprinkled along the sides of the mountains. The girls gathered armfuls of the dainty Alpine flowers, and played in the snow until we were obliged to tear ourselves away in order to get back to Interlaken in time for dinner.

We made the descent on the opposite side of the mountain, to the town of Grindelwald, in another valley equally as beautiful as Lauterbrunnen.

We saw a number of chamois, or wild goats, jumping on the rocks at the foot of the Jungfrau, or feeding on the small patches of grass between snow fields.

When we entered the dining room of our hotel we were surprised to find a little flag at each plate, then we discovered that every American in the room had one. Of course we wore our flags all evening.

After dinner there was a band concert, also some very beautiful fireworks at the Hursaal, a lovely garden, or park. We had had a very full day but didn't want to miss the fireworks as the display was especially for the American visitors so we all went and, of course, enjoyed it immensely.

I thought of you little people at Forest Hill School and wondered if you were having your usual fun on the beach in the evening.

Now, please write and tell me what you did on the "Glorious Fourth."

Very lovingly,
MINNA STEEL HARPER.

REMINISCENCES

Do you remember?

Dutch Market Day, in 1909, the action of which took place opposite Pine Inn, and among the leading promoters, Mrs. J. P. Foster and Mrs. Carrie Sterling?

When an hour was considered a good traveling time from Carmel to Monterey?

When a sack could be filled with pine cones in a few minutes on what is now the postoffice block, and which boys sold at 5 cents a sack?

When William T. Kibbler was the owner of the first and only automobile in Carmel? It was a Franklin.

Lake Side Tract Attracts Buyers

Speaking with J. A. Seyferth, local representative of the Peninsula Realty Co. of San Mateo, he stated that the new Lake Side Tract, located on the Monterey-Santa Cruz highway, just north of Del Monte, is now completely surveyed into many attractive units.

A large number of residents of the southern section of the state have visited the tract and many of them are purchasing the property for homes as well as for investment.

A short auto ride from any portion of the Monterey Peninsula will take you to the tract. Follow the arrow.

The Pine Cone Press is a modern printing plant, keeping pace with every improvement in the craft.

Dutch Dancers' Delightful Didoes

By Ssuan Porter

"I've had a good deal, but I've never been cooed over yet," the actress in one of Kipling's stories says to the newspaper man. The audience at the Golden Bough last Sunday night cooed and cooed again over those queer, quaint, enchanting twins from Holland---Constance and Peronne Arntzen---who clattered in their wooden shoes down the steps to the forestage, strummed on their guitars, took the listeners into their confidence, and proceed to put over a program of folk-songs which for naivite, simplicity, humorous spontaniety, clear intelligence and absolute charm would be difficult to equal anywhere in the world.

Never since the first cup of coffee was poured in the foyer has more hearty enthusiasm been expressed by an audience. "It's perfect art," says one man, and another answers, "No, it's the perfect reality which art tries to reproduce." "They are better than the Fuller Sisters," says the man from Boston, ond the woman from New York says they remind her of the Chauve Souris. And a Carmelite murmurs with intensity, "Think of all the money I've paid to try to learn the spontaniety they just naturally have!" And a little girl whispers, "I wish they'd go on singing for a million hours."

We all want them to go on singing, and we want our friends who missed hearing them to have another chance at such pure joy. A rumor runs about town that they may return early next month. May it prove true! Certainly a welcome awaits them that comes straight from our hearts. And by the way, tney said that the Carmel audience was the nicest they had ever had.

THE LOCAL MERCHANT

Why patronize that local merchant? Is it solely because you want to keep his good will? The answer comes in no uncertain terms: that merchant is dependent upon you, and you are dependent upon him. Stop and consider what you would do without him, and then measure his value to you and your community in terms of civic and economic loss if he were to move from our midst.

That local merchant lives on the Monterey Peninsula; he buys what he can in and about the peninsula; his wife, his children—his all—are here. He had faith enough in this section to settle here.

If he makes a mistake in a business transaction in his favor he is sure to rectify it. If the quality of his merchandise fails, he is here to make good. He trusts you; he carries you along financially, charging no interest; studies how to bring his values up and his prices down to meet an honest and legitimate competition, in order that he may remain here and have a just competence for himself and his loved ones.

Think twice before you spend your money away from home for goods you can buy here, where every courtesy awaits you and every opportunity for fair dealing is available to you. Besides, you honestly owe this much to your neighbors and fellow townsmen, and they owe their service to you. Don't let your money get so far away from home. It has every chance of coming back to you if you do not give it too much rope.

Mrs. Fred Leidig and sons, Glenn and Dale, have returned from a ten days' vacation with Mrs. Leidig's sister, Mrs. R. M. Kennedy, at Manteca, San Joaquin County.

According to a survey of the crop now ripening there will be shipped from Carmel Valley this fall approximately sixty carloads of pears. Thirty-three carloads were shipped last year.

Ellen Van Volkenberg, wife of Maurice Browne, has gone east. She will visit in Chicago and New York. She will play her way west, arriving here some time in December.

A tango fox-trot, entitled "Carmelita," written by Frederick Preston Search, of this city, and J. R. Van Vleck, is reported to have made a decided hit in the larger cafes in the San Francisco bay cities.

The first of a series of fall and winter attractions prepared by Edward G. Kuster for the Theatre of the Golden Bough will take place tomorrow evening, when Edouard Deru, Belgian violinist, will appear in concert.

All those citizens who have established a residence here, and who have not registered since January 1, may now register for the general election in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Clark are here from New York. The former is engaged in research work in the Carnegie Laboratory here. Mrs. Clark is an accomplished pianist. Ida C. Clark, sister of Mr. Clark, is on the editorial staff of the Pictorial Review.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Seideneck, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woolsey, plan to leave for Europe about the middle of next month. They will sail direct to Hamburg, via the Panama Canal, and will sojourn in Vienna and Florence.

Among those who will take up work at the second session of the Golden Bough school of the arts of the theatre in October is Zara Lee, niece of Mrs. Gertrude Nelson Andrews. In the interim both ladies will visit in Hollywood.

When Congressman Arthur M. Free was here last Monday—the day before election—he made it his particular business to visit the local postoffice to ascertain its needs, and consulted with Postmaster Stella Vincent as to ways and means. The congressman also had a long confab with W. L. Overstreet at the Pine Cone office.
